NOTES:

1. Eggs sold in the United States have a 3-digit date code when the eggs were packaged. It is the last three numbers on the second row. For example, 001 is January 1, 178 is June 25 or 26.
2. This chart includes February 29th for leap year. Subtract one day for other years.
3. Refrigerated eggs are good 5 or more weeks after the pack date. This chart assumes 5 weeks.
4. The fresher the eggs the more difficult they are to peel. For hard boiled eggs, buy eggs 7 to 10 days before you plan on using them.
